said Yashwant Singh, the station house officer of Kotwali police station in Jaipur.

Singh said that a complaint was lodged by the survivor, who is married. In her complaint, the survivor alleged that the accused came to her house on Diwali, poured petrol on her and threw an earthen lamp on her, he said, quoting the complainant.

In April, the woman had lodged a police complaint against the accused alleging that he had raped her in 2018. Since then the accused was absconding, the police said.

through video conferencing. Modi also called upon people to continue to support the local economy like they did on Diwali.

"The way the country gave a tremendous support to the local economy on Diwali and other festivals, it indeed gives a new energy and we have to maintain this," he said.

"I would like to request our saints and seers that wherever they go and speak, the message of 'vocal for local' should be spread by them," Modi said.

The Prime Minister said Jain-

"The country is also moving in the same direction. A law against triple talaq was made, and new sectors are opening up for women," he said. "Women today are getting opportunities in the armed forces and the new education policy will create opportunities for them."

Modi said the Bhakti movement led by seers had played an important role in strengthening the freedom movement and asserted that it was now the time to focus on "vocal for local" campaign.

mony, and the world gets inspiration from these messages. "Therefore, the world is once again looking at India," he said.

Speaking on the life and works of the Jain seer, Modi said he was a visionary saint who had compassion for everyone and he visited different parts of the country to work for education and women empowerment. "If you look at the history of India, whenever the need arose, some saintly figure emerged to guide the society. Acharya Vijay Vallabh was one such saint," he said.

BUS FALLS IN POND, 7 RESCUED

HT Correspondent

htraj@htlive.com

KOTA: A mini bus carrying five passengers fell in a roadside pond along the Kota-Baran National Highway on Monday morning, police said.

All five passengers, along with the driver and conducter, were rescued, the police said.

"The mini bus driver could not see cattle from distance on NH-27 near Karadiya village in Seemliya region of Kota district due to fog and lost control of the vehicle trying to save the cattle. The bus fell down in a eight-foot-deep roadside pond," said Rampal Vyas, the circle inspector of Seemliya police station in Kota rural.

The passengers were going to Baran city from New Delhi to pay homage to a Jain seer, who passed away recently, he said.
